4. the methods or approaches to be used,
5. a brief discussion of how your project will foster communication between the world of ideas and the world of public affairs.

Letters of Recommendation

It is your responsibility to have three signed letters of reference sent directly to the Kennan Institute by the deadline. Scanned copies of signed letters sent to us by email are acceptable. Your referees should be familiar with you and your work. Along with a copy of your proposal, you should send to your referees a copy of the enclosed letter of instruction, which they can use in preparing their comments about your proposed study and your qualifications for undertaking it. They may also comment upon how you and your work would contribute to the Center's goal of bridging the gap between the worlds of scholarship and public affairs.

Deadline: All application materials must be received by May 15.

Name of Applicant _____

The person named above has applied for the Galina Starovoitova Fellowship at the Kennan Institute of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars. This fellowship program was first announced by the U.S. Secretary of State Madeleine Albright in Moscow on January 25, 1999. In keeping with the legacy of Galina Starovoitova, the Starovoitova Fellowship is available to prominent scholars or policy makers from the Russian Federation who have successfully bridged the worlds of ideas and public affairs to advance human rights, the rule of law, conflict resolution, the free press, and civil society. Each year, a Starovoitova Fellow is chosen to be in residence at the Kennan Institute to conduct research on projects related to those fields.

The applicant has identified you as one of the three individuals who are familiar with the applicant's work and qualifications and who would be asked to comment specifically on the proposed study and the applicant's ability to undertake it.

We would appreciate receiving from you a full and candid evaluation both of the candidate and of the proposed study project. The basic criteria for selection of scholars are: 1) the importance and originality of the project to the fields of human rights and conflict resolution (the quality of the project proposal and the degree to which the key questions have been identified and a promising approach outlined), 2) the applicant's scholarly capabilities, achievement, and ability to accomplish the proposed project, and 3) the likelihood that the work, when completed, will advance basic understanding of the topic under study and represent a substantial contribution to the body of knowledge about it.
